BY THE GOVERNOR.

A THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Gratitude and reverent obedience require us to give thanks to Almighty God, for the mercies and blessings he has bestowed upon us, for the very abundant harvests vouchsafed us, for the constantly increasing prosperity of the many laborers, for the enlargement and augmentation of business and financial success, and the many other blessings accorded us during the past year.

Now, therefore, in compliance with this praiseworthy desire, and in harmony with the president of the United States, I, Jeremiah M. Rusk, governor of the state of Wisconsin, do hereby appoint as a day of praise and thanksgiving for the continued unity and prosperity of the nation, for the additional growth and welfare of the state, and for the manifold blessings we have been permitted to enjoy as individuals. Being thankful for so many manifestations of the infinite goodness of Divine Providence, it is recommended that on the day herein appointed, the people of this state abstain from their ordinary vocations, and assembling in their accustomed places, give duo expressions of gratitude and praise for His protection and guidance.

Thursday, November 30th, 1882,

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed. Done at the city of Madison, this thirtieth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand, eight hundred and eighty-two.

[GREAT SEAL]

By the Governor:
J. M. RUSK
ERNST G. TIMME, Secretary of State.

AN UNFORTUNATE DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

The result of the election which took place yesterday is one of the very many surprises in the politics of this year. It has been a long time since the republicans have met with such a crushing defeat in the eastern states. New York has gone democratic by a majority ranging from 100,000 to 120,000, and Pennsylvania elects Pattison, democratic governor by some 30,000 plurality. Massachusetts which used to give all the way from from 40,000 to 75,000 republican majority, has elected for its governor that political hermaphrodite, Benjamin F. Butler. The republican disaster does not end here. Other states have followed the wake of New York, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts. Chicago has elected the entire democratic ticket, and Wisconsin has lost three congressmen, with a remarkable falling off of the republican vote, throughout the state.

This is the condition of things which confronts the republican party to-day. It is a sore political trial, not that a mere defeat has met the republicans, but that the majorities against them should be so overwhelming. In looking about over this field of a political Waterloo, the course of the crushing defeat will naturally crowd themselves upon the mind. It is not at all difficult to guess why there are democratic victories and republican disasters. This judgment on the republican party is brought about by some of the leaders who are totally lost to all sense of shame, and who have put political morality under their heels. Give the country another forty-seventh congress with another river and harbor bill, and its insult to economy, and there is no power that can be created that can save the party in 1884. A repetition of the methods by which Secretary Folger was nominated for governor of New York, a continuance of the bossism and the one-man power in the republican politics of Pennsylvania, a continued support of the Jay Hubbell assessment business, and a little more of the star-route extravagance and frauds, and the republican party will become too dead for resurrection. It is a fact which the republican leaders must understand that the republican party cannot become as corrupt as the democratic party and hold the confidence of the people and gain victories. The republican voters of this country demand an honest administration of affairs and economy in the expenditure of public money, and when a republican congress refuses to do this and republican leaders attempt to bulldoze the people, then tens of thousands of republican voters—the most intelligent of the party—will refuse to support the party, and the consequence is defeat.

In looking about the first congressional district—a district which has a proud republican record—we find that there has been a remarkable change. The republicans have lost thousands of votes, and thereby the democrats have unexpectedly got the congressional prize within their grasp. When things come to this, it is about time for the republicans to pause, and soberly consider what can the party do to be saved. Let every republican in the district and in the state do what he can to make the party pure and strong, and place it beyond the touch of defeat.

It is said that Edgerly is the first democratic governor ever elected in New Hampshire.

Under all circumstances, Rock county did well, and if the other counties had done their duties after the fashion of Rock, Mr. Williams would not have been defeated.

The republicans in the third district have been defeated, Hazelton laid on the shelf, and Burr Jones, a democrat, elected. His greedy ambition for office, and a total disregard for the methods by which he got his nomination, defeated him. He bragged on his vote on the river and harbor bill—a bill that cost the republican defeat in 1882—and did not attempt to rebuke the extravagance of congress. He tried to bulldoze the people and failed.

THE FIRST DISTRICT.

Up to this hour of writing there are indications that the democrats have elected John Winans to congress by a small plurality. The majorities in the several counties in the district, so far as can be ascertained, are as follows:

FOR WINANS.

Jefferson	1,600
Racine	500
Kenosha	66
Total	2,166

FOR WILLIAMS.

Walworth	650
Rock	1,800
Total	1,350.

1882.

Close of the Great Political Campaign of the Year.

The Next House of Representatives Democratic by a Decided Majority.

Cleveland Elected Governor of New York by Over a Hundred Thousand Majority.

Ben Butler Elected Governor of Massachusetts.

Indiana Revolutionized---The State Carried by the Democrats,

And also Pennsylvania, Connecticut and California.

Illinois Republican by a Reduced Majority.

Morrison Defeated in the Belleville District.

Mahone Wins---The Readjusters Carry Virginia.

Robeson Defeated for Congress in New Jersey.

Gains of Republican Congressmen in Mississippi.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—At this writing the returns show a majority of 120,000 for Cleveland, Democratic candidate for governor, and the probability is strong that the complete returns will foot up a majority of 150,000 or over more. Cleveland's majority in New York county is 77,607, and in Brooklyn 34,100. His vote south of Spuyten Duyvil creek is greater than any Democratic candidate ever polled before. In Brooklyn Folger did not carry a single assembly district, which is something unprecedented, as Brooklyn has strong Republican districts. All through the state the Republicans voted by thousands for Cleveland. The city of Auburn gave a Democratic majority for the first time since the organization of the Republican party. Cayuga and Jefferson counties, both Republican strongholds, went Democratic. It was interesting to notice that in nearly every election district in the state Cleveland polled a larger vote than Hancock did in 1880. Some of the Republicans did not vote at all, but most of the disaffected voters cast their ballots for Cleveland and Hill. The count on the legislative and congressional candidates will probably not be completed to-night, but the Republicans already admit that they have lost the general assembly. The present appearances are that the house will stand 70 Democrats to 58 Republicans, a gain of 3 Democrats. The present senate holds over. At Democratic headquarters it is claimed that they have a bare majority of the congressional delegation. They claim 17 Democrats to 16 Republicans. The coalition Democratic local ticket, which all the factions united to support in New York city, is elected by a large majority. Franklin Edson is the new mayor. The citizen's ticket, headed by Allen Campbell, made a hard fight, but had not a ghost of a chance against a united Democracy. The Democratic city ticket in Brooklyn is also victorious by a large majority, and Boss McLaughlin has demonstrated that he is still a power in politics. The result is something of a blow to Mayor Low, whose candidates were beaten.

The Twenty-third assembly district in this city, comprising the region called Murray Hill, where the residences of New York's wealthiest men are, gave a majority for Cleveland. These districts have always been Republican. Cleveland's majority at 1:30 a. m. figures up to 160,000, and is still on the rise. His majority is more than double that of Mr. Tilden in 1874, more than double the largest majority ever attained by a candidate for governor in a contested election in this state. In such Republican strongholds as Erie and Jefferson counties his majority was 6,000 and 2,000 respectively. The remainder of the Democratic state ticket is elected by majorities equal to Cleveland's. Franklin Edson is elected mayor of this city by about 25,000 majority and the remainder of the Democratic local ticket is elected by majorities ranging from 12,000 to 20,000. Tracy, the Republican candidate for supreme court judge in the Second judicial district, is defeated by Judge Brown, the Democratic candidate. The Sun says: "The Democrats have gained at least two congressmen in this state, and the indications are that they will have an increased majority in the assembly, assuring a just reapportionment of the state. Secor Robeson is defeated for congress in the First New Jersey district by a majority estimated at 1,500. His own county gave several hundred majority against him. Miles Ross, the river and harbor jobber, is defeated for congress in the Third New Jersey district, and the indications are that his fellow-jobber, Henry S. Harris, in the Fourth district, is also defeated. The Democratic gains of assemblymen in New Jersey insure a Democratic majority on joint ballot in the legislature.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Tribune gives the Democratic majority in New York state at 125,000.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Cleveland's majority in this city is 75,600. The Democrats claim the state by 110,000 majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The Democratic city ticket is elected by 25,000 majority.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—The following candidates are elected in this city: Mayor, Franklin Edson, Dem.; county clerk, Patrick Keenan, Dem.; sheriff, A. V. Davidson, Dem.; judges supreme court, Richard O. Gorman, Dem., George Ingraham, Dem. also three democratic coroners. Gen. Henry W. Slocum is elected congressman at large. The following congressmen are elected from the city district: Fifth, Muller, Dem.; Sixth, S. S. Cox, Dem.; Seventh, Wm. Dorsheimer, Dem.; Eighth, John W. Russell, Rep.; Ninth, John Hardy, Dem.; Tenth, Abram S. Hewitt, Dem.; Eleventh, Wm. L. Strong, Rep.

ALBANY, Nov. 8.—Thos. J. Alystyn, Dem., is elected to congress from the Sixteenth district.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 8.—The entire Democratic city and county tickets are elected. The New York state assembly is probably Democratic.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 8.—The Democrats carry every district in Brooklyn.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 8.—Total vote: Cleveland, 82,050; Folger, 24,556.

BUFFALO, Nov. 8.—Cleveland's majority in this city is estimated at 4,000.

BROOKLYN, Nov. 8.—Full returns give Cleveland 38,103 majority in Brooklyn.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—At midnight Chestnut street was blocked with people for squares. Rarely have such scenes been witnessed even in presidential years. Bands were parading and celebrating the victory over the Cameron party. The result of the Independents' fight against Beaver, Cameron's candidate for governor, has made such a wide breach in the Republican party that Pattison, Dem., is elected. The figures can only be given approximately, but the only question now is as to the size of Pattison's plurality. At midnight only scattering counties in the state have been heard from, and indicate that Pattison will have about 30,000 plurality in the state. Not a single full ward in Philadelphia has been returned, but the city will go for Beaver, it is thought, by perhaps 5,000. The vote for the Prohibition ticket is insignificant, and the attempt to turn a large block of Democrats over to Armstrong has failed. Returns from many of the congressional districts are very slow. The present delegation stands 19 Republicans to 8 Democrats.

The new delegation will show remarkable gains. There is a sure gain of two Democrats, and at the Democratic headquarters it is claimed that there will be at least eighteen Democrats in the delegation. The Democrats have elected Elliott, congressman-at-large, and have elected Randall over Macll in the Third district; Ermentrout over McHuse, Eighth district; Mutchler over Biery, Tenth; Storm over Smith, Eleventh; Connolly over Scranton, Twelfth; Post over Overton and Godwin, Fifteenth; Duncan over Mesherry, Nineteenth; Curtin over Orwig, Twentieth; Boyle over Seaton, Twenty-first. The Republicans have elected Bingham over Cadwallader, First district; O'Neill over Dundas, Second; Kelley over Swain, Fourth; Harmer over Martin, Fifth; Everhart, anti-Cameron, over Clyde, Sixth; Evans over Davis, Seventh; Smith over Girvin, Ninth; Barger, anti-Cameron, who had a clear field in the Twenty-third district. Miller over Caldwell, Twenty-sixth; and Brainard over Plumer, Twenty-seventh. In some of the remaining districts the vote appears to be close. At the Democratic headquarters claims are made that the Democrats have carried them all, but the Republicans make counter claims. The chances are favorable to the Democrats. They claim to have elected Wetherill over Brumm, Thirteenth; McCormick over Barr, Fourteenth; Early over Brown, Sixteenth; Coffroth over Campbell, Seventeenth; Kimmel over Atkinson, Eighteenth; Hopkins over Errett, Twenty-second; Patton over White, Twenty-fifth; McConahy over Lawrence, Twenty-fourth. The legislature is probably Republican, with an increased anti-Cameron element.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—Reports from Pennsylvania show Beaver defeated by 30,000 majority.

HARRISBURG, Nov. 8.—The Democratic plurality in Pennsylvania is 40,000.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The Republicans will lose four or five congressmen.

M. P. HANDY,
Managing Editor Press.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 8.—Beaver's plurality in Allegheny county, 4,000. The rest of the Republican ticket is probably elected.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—There are astonishing Democratic gains in Wilkesbarre.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—Six wards in Philadelphia show a Democratic gain of 1,583.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 8.—The re-election of Randall, Dem., in the Third district, and of Kelley, Rep., in the Fourth, is assured; also Bingham, Rep., in the First, and O'Neil, Rep., in the Second.

MASSACHUSETTS.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Gen. Butler's plurality will be about 4,000, not more, although some of his supporters talk of 15,000. The total vote is pretty large, especially in the cities, where the Republicans slaughtered their gubernatorial and congressional tickets unmercifully. No such cutting and pasting has been known in this state for many years. All voters who for any reason were dissatisfied with anything voted for the general, in scores of cases whole towns changing their complexion. The city of Cambridge did this very thing, revolutionizing from 600 Republican majority to 1,000 Democratic, and Salem, Springfield, Worcester and other cities which usually return Republican majorities are to be classed as Democratic. The majorities in the usual Butler cities, Lowell, Fall River and Lawrence, are enormous. The Republican state ticket is elected, and they control the executive council, but in the legislature they have lost twenty-six seats, six in the senate and twenty in the house.

The congressional fight has also gone against the Republicans. In the absolutely sure districts Davis, Long, Ranney, Russell, Rice, Whitney and Robinson, Republicans, and Collins, Democrat, are elected, but every doubtful district has gone Democratic, or Independent. In the Fifth, Leopold Morse, who ran both as an Independent and Democrat, has defeated Bowman, the machine candidate by some 2,000 votes. In the Sixth, Henry B. Lovering, mayor of Lynn, is elected over Doneen Eishal Converse, of Malden, and in the Ninth, Col. Theodore Lyman, a Republican, has whipped John W. Candler running on an independent civil-service reform platform. Some of the best known Republican legislative candidates are defeated, even in districts that were called sure. The overturn in Boston is tremendous, Butler sweeping the city by 13,283 plurality. All he had hoped for was 8,000. The general was called from Lowell to-night when the result became known, and a shouting crowd filled Faneuil hall to hear him speak, but he with dignity declined and went instead to the Revere house, where, in response to a serenade, he made a neat little speech.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The Journal figures the plurality for Butler in the state at 20,000, but claims the entire Republican state ticket except Bishop.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—The Democrats claim the election of the state ticket and three congressmen.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Butler is the only Democrat elected in Massachusetts, the rest of the ticket is Republican.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—Total vote of Boston: Butler, 30,340; Bishop, 16,719; Butler's plurality over Bishop, 13,621.

BOSTON, Nov. 8.—In eighty-six towns Butler had 24,055 votes, Bishop 10,883; Democratic gain 706.

ILLINOIS.

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 8.—Election returns are slow coming in. The Democrats claim to have elected their county ticket by from 700 to 800 majority. The Republicans elected Hon. David T. Littler to the legislature. Hon. William M. Springer hears but little from this district. He claims to be elected by 3,500 majority. A considerable effort was made to elect Dr. William Jayne, Republican, to the senate, but proved a failure. L. F. Hamilton, Democrat, is elected by about 500 majority. At a late hour last night the Republicans claim the election of Henry Latham, county treasurer, by a small majority. Gov. Cullom, not pleased with the general returns, retired to his home early. The Republicans here make no estimate on the general result.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8

Returns indicate the election of three Republican congressmen in the city—Dunham, Davis and Adams—and one Independent Democrat, Finerty. The Democrats carry the county ticket, with the exception of sheriff.

The chairman of the Republican state central committee telegraphs the chairman of the national committee as follows: "We have carried the state by 9,000 majority; have held our own on congressmen and probably gained one, Kneffner."

QUINCY, Nov. 8.—The city of Quincy gives Singleton, for congress, 3,600 majority over Riggs. Meagre reports from towns of the county indicate that Singleton has carried the county outside of the city by a good majority. There has been a great amount of scratching on local officers and senator and representatives.

BLOOMINGTON, Nov. 8.—McLean county gives Capt. Rowell, Republican, for congress, 1,005 majority. Rowell's election over Stevenson in the Fourteenth district is confidently claimed by the Republicans.

SPRINGFIELD, Nov. 8.—The Republicans have lost 700 in Iroquois county.

JOLIET, Nov. 8.—Shumway, Dem., is elected senator, and O'Connell and Belz, Dems., representatives. The third representative is in doubt, with the chances in favor of Frazier, Prohibition. The returns are not in on the county ticket.

AURORA, Nov. 8.—Returns assure the election of Herrington, Dem., and Walker, Ind. Rep., from this legislative district. The third man is in doubt, but the indications favor the election of Hyatt, Rep., of Du Page county.

LINCOLN, Nov. 8.—The indications are that the Democrats have elected the whole county ticket, except the coroner. The tickets were badly scratched and the work of counting very slow. The count will not be made known before morning. A heavy vote was polled in every township. The county has heretofore been Republican.

GREENVILLE, Ill., Nov. 8.—The estimated Republican majorities in Bond county are: For state treasurer, 400; congress, 300; legislature, 1,000. The Republican county ticket is elected by a small majority over the Independent Democratic ticket.

KANKAKEE, Nov. 8.—The entire Republican county ticket is elected. A two-thirds vote was polled, and much scratching on county officers. The Prohibitionists polled about 500 votes.

PEORIA, Nov. 8.—Meager returns from the city and county indicate the election of the entire Democratic ticket, with the exception of school superintendent, by small majorities. For representatives, Quinn and Gallup, Democrats, and Thompson, Republican, are elected. A very light vote was polled in all the wards.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Nov. 8.—Kneffner, Rep., is elected in the Tenth district, defeating Morrison.

LA SALLE, Ill., Nov. 8.—This county goes Democratic by a small majority.

JOLIET, Ill., Nov. 8.—Will county elects the Democratic ticket.

INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—Senator McDonald and Hon. W. H. English, the Democratic central committee, claim a gain of four congressmen—viz., First; Seventh, Ninth and Tenth—and a majority on state ticket of 5,000 to 8,000; also a clear majority in the house of representatives. They concede the senate close on account of the majority of senators holding over. The Republican committee concede the state to be very close, but claim the election of the congressmen in the Eighth and Ninth districts.

So far no reports have been received from the Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Sixth districts, and nothing is known to indicate any different result from that expected and conceded by all hands heretofore—viz.: re-election of the present congressmen, Cobb, Stockslager, Holman, Matson and Browne, all Democrats but the last. The congressional contest in this district is exceedingly close and neither Peelle nor English is disposed to vaunt his claims unseemingly. English is conceded 900 majority in Shelby and from 300 to 400 in Hancock. Whether Peelle can overcome here the 1,000 adverse majority outside of Marion county only the official count can determine. Mr. Peelle thinks he will have 1,200 majority, but the few precincts reported do not show that he has run far enough ahead of his ticket to insure this. English was badly scratched in this county, and it may be in the combination to defeat him. The meagre returns, all unofficial, from the Eighth district, indicate that Peelle has been re-elected.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 8.—Advices received by the Democratic committee, claim the election of Lamb over Peirce in the Eighth district, Vigo county being figured at 480 Democratic majority. They are now claiming the election of all congressmen but Browne and Peelle, and will not yet concede that the latter has defeated English.

LAPORTE, Nov. 8.—I am probably re-elected from this district by a reduced majority. It will be impossible to give particulars before to-morrow evening.

W. H. CALKINS,
Republican candidate.

MUNCIE, Nov. 8.—Election returns are slow coming in. The best estimates on the congressional ticket are that Thomas M. Browne, Republican, is elected, with from 6,000 to 8,000 majority.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 8.—Private advices from Lafayette, Ind., indicate that the defeat of Orth through a trade between the Nationals and Democrats of Boone county by the terms of which Ward was to receive the National vote for congress in exchange for Democratic support of the National candidate for representative in the legislature. Still the official vote will alone determine the result.

MICHIGAN.

DETROIT, Nov. 8.—Jerome is now more than 2,000 behind his ticket on a total vote of only 80,000. If this ratio is kept up Begole will have 30,000 majority. The balance of the Republican state ticket is probably elected. No figures can yet be given as to the complexion of the legislature, but it is likely to be Democratic. The Republican state central committee claim the legislature by a good working majority, but will give no figures. No majorities on congressmen can be given. The Democrats probably got but one in the delegation, Maybury's majority over Lord in the First being about 2,000. Webster will pull through in the Fifth by a small majority.

LANSING, Nov. 8.—The Democratic state central committee rooms are not open, but a general meeting is being held at Mead's hall of all parties to receive the news. Mr. O. M. Barnes, chairman of the state central committee claims the governor and at least two congressmen in the First and Sixth districts, and a majority of the legislature. The senator, etc., from this county are Democrats. The Democratic county ticket is also elected.

PORT HURON, Nov. 8.—For the first time since 1854 the Democrats have carried St. Clair county. Carleton for congress in the Seventh district is probably elected by 500 majority. This is based on the average gains from reports received from nineteen townships. Rich, Rep., did not carry his own township of Lapeer. Heavy gains are reported for the Democrats throughout the district. Begole, Fusion, for governor, made a strong run in all up-shore townships. No official returns received yet. Republicans concede heavy losses on everything.

COLDWATER, Nov. 8.—The entire Republican county ticket is elected with from 600 to 1,200 majority, except for sheriff, which will prob-

[illegible] Democrats claim 550. Lacey and Jerome, for congress and governor, have majorities of about a thousand each. Both Republican legislative candidates are probably elected.

KALAMAZOO, Nov. 8.—In this district thirty-one polling places show a gain for Yaple over Burrows of 1,825. The district is in doubt. The Democrats claim it by 700. In Burrows' county Yaple gains 876. Yaple made his canvass of the district solely on the issue of free trade. Jerome, for governor, runs behind his ticket, his majority in the county being only about 400. John Galligan, Democrat, is elected sheriff by 200. The rest of the county ticket is Republican by 800.

IOWA.

DES MOINES, Nov. 8.—The State Register has so far but seventeen returns in from precincts. These indicate a light vote. The Greenback vote is larger than was expected. These seventeen precincts give the Republican state ticket 1,118 over the Democratic, and 1,448 over the Greenback. Last year the same precincts gave the Republican over the Democratic 1,221 and over the Greenback 1,594.

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 8.

DAVENPORT, Nov. 8.—Returns from the Second Iowa district come in very slow. In Scott county the Democrats have made a gain of 2,400 over the vote on congressman in 1880, through the disaffection of the Germans. If their action in this county is any index of their action throughout the district, J. H. Murphy, Democrat, for congress, will have a majority in the district of at least 1,000, but little is known at this hour (midnight) about the vote outside of this county. It is altogether probable that Murphy is elected by from 500 to 1,000 majority.

BURLINGTON, Nov. 8.—McCoid, Rep., is re-elected to congress in the First district. In Des Moines county, the estimated maj. for Hall, Dem., for congress is 1,000.

DAVENPORT, Nov. 8.—The Republicans concede the election of Murphy, Dem., for congress in the Second district, by 400 maj.

DUBUQUE, Nov. 8.—This county goes Democratic by 3,000 maj.

ALMA, Nov. 8.—The Republican ticket in this county was badly scratched. Weaver will probably have a plurality. The Democrats claim a majority for Mackey. The county ticket is probably democratic, except the clerk.

BURLINGTON, Nov 8.—The returns are coming in very slowly. At this hour not enough have been received to form any definite idea as to the results. Hall's (democrat) majority in this county is estimated at from 1,000 to 1,200. Two years ago McCoid's majority was 448. Scattering returns from various points in the district indicate McCoid's re-election by a greatly reduced majority.

WISCONSIN.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 8.—Returns show heavy Democratic gains. The following congressmen are elected: D. H. Sumner, Dem., in the Second district; Burr W. Jones, Dem., in the Third; Peter V. Deuster, Dem., in the Fourth; Joseph Rankin, Dem., in the Fifth; Chas. Williams, Rep., in the First; Richard Gunther, Rep., in the Sixth; Cyrus W. Butt Rep., in the Seventh; Wm. T. Price, Rep., in the Eighth; Isaac Stephenson, Rep., in the Ninth. Democratic gain, two.

The entire Trades-Assembly ticket, with the exception of coroner, is successful by majorities ranging between 2,000 and 3,000.

As far as can now be ascertained the state legislature is Republican in both branches, with heavy Republican losses, however. Two constitutional amendments, one relating to biennial instead of annual elections, the second relating to the registry of voters, were carried without almost any opposition, some few votes being cast in the rural district against biennial sessions. The Republican managers attribute the local defeat solely to the efforts of the Liberal league, formerly the Brewers' and Liquor Dealers' association, while the Democratic managers contend that Republican mismanagement is the cause of the turn in affairs. The returns received at midnight indicate a Republican loss of 12,000 votes.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 8.—Summarized returns of all the counties in the state show that five Republican and four Democratic congressmen were elected—a Democratic gain of two one district, the Ninth, being new, under the recent apportionment.

WATERTOWN, Nov. 8.—The majority in Jefferson county for John Winans, Independent, for congress, over Charles G. Williams, Republican, is 1,000. Blackman, Prohibition congressional candidate, polled about 500 votes in the county. The entire Democratic county ticket is elected. Piper and Craig, Democrats, are elected to the assembly. W. W. Reed, Democrat, is elected senator.

MONROE, Nov. 8.—Three of the strongest and largest Republican towns in the county, including this city, give Jones, Dem., for congress, 413 majority. The Republicans console the county to the Democrats on congressman by 500 majority.

MADISON, Nov. 8.—Burr W. Jones, Democrat, will have a plurality of from 3,000 to 1,300 over Bazleton in the Third congressional district, and a good majority over both Hazleton and Keyes' vote.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 8.—The indications are that Williams, Rep., is elected by 2,000 majority in the Second congressional district; five wards and towns show a net Republican gain of 15; in the Third district a net Democratic gain of 6.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 8.—Five Democratic and six Republican congressmen are elected in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 8.—P. V. Deuster is elected by 1,400.

ARKANSAS.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 8.—The First district gives Breckenridge 114 maj.; in the Second district, Jefferson county, the vote is light; the indications are that Williams, Rep., has carried the county by a greatly reduced majority. The town of Arkadelphia gives Breckenridge 98, and Jones, Dem., 126 maj.

LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 8.—In the First and Fourth districts the Democrats have no opposition. The town of Malvern, in the Second district, gives Jones, Dem., 111 maj.; Breckenridge, 10. Prescott gives Williams, Rep., 50 maj.; Cunningham, 65. This city, with two wards to hear from, gives Benjamin, Rep., 10 maj. Hot Springs and two townships give Breckenridge 110 maj.; Benjamin, Rep., 34. Other townships to be heard from are claimed by the Democrats.

The estimated majority for Breckenridge, Democratic candidate for congress at large, is 20,000. It is also estimated that Cunningham, the Greenback candidate for the position, polled 25,000 votes, he being supported by the Republicans.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 8.—California has gone Democratic.

It is believed that the Prohibition ticket will have about 5,000 votes in the state at large, and this, with the defection from the Republicans on account of the Sunday law, is likely to give the state to the Democrats.

COLORADO.

DENVER, Nov. 8.—Ex-Senator Chaffee, chairman of the Republican committee, still claims the state, but with a reduced majority for governor, probably not more than 1,000. He claims the state legislature and congressmen for the Republicans with the usual majority. Up to this hour not a single precinct complete has been heard from in this city. Seventeen of the small precincts scattered throughout the state show a total vote of 447 for Grant (Democrat) for governor; Campbell, (Republican), 2,600. This vote shows a small Democratic gain over the vote of 1880. T. M. Patterson, chairman of the Democratic committee, claims the state for the Democrats on governor, but would not venture an opinion on the legislature or congressmen.

CONNECTICUT.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 8.—Waller, Dem., is elected governor by 4,000 maj.

HARTFORD, Nov. 8.—One hundred and ten towns show 3,000 Democratic gain. Wm. W. Eaton, Dem., candidate for congress in the First district, has 1,000 maj. Chas. S. Mitchell, Dem., is elected in the Second district; E. Seymour, Dem., in the Fourth; Jno. F. Waite, Rep., in the Third—a Democratic gain of two congressmen. Thomas M. Waller, Dem., is elected governor by 4,000 maj.

Only the Third congressional district is saved to the Republicans, a loss of two congressmen. The legislature will be Republican by a small majority.

VIRGINIA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 8.—Reports show large coalition gains throughout Virginia.

Mahone claims the state by 25,000 maj. The Richmond district is very close. It is probable that Smith, Readjuster, is elected. The Democrats carry Alexandria by decreased maj.

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—Mahone carries Virginia by 10,000 majority, and elects seven congressmen.

RICHMOND, Nov. 8.—This city gives John E. Massey, Democratic candidate for congressman-at-large, a majority of 2,443. George D. Wise, Dem., is elected to congress from this district by 2,600 majority.

The negroes nearly all voted solidly for the Mahone ticket. It is probable that Mahone will elect four congressmen, as follows: Second district, Henry Libby; Fourth district, Ben Hooper; Seventh, John Paul; Ninth, Henry Bowen, with chances for Simms in the Fifth over Cabell, Democrat, and Mayo in the First over Garrison, Democrat. The Democrats certainly elect G. D. Wise in the Third, Tucker in the Sixth, and Barbour in the Eighth. From present indications the result of to-day's election will increase the Republican representation in congress two, ruling Fulkerson and Paul, the present members, as Republicans, and Dezendorf, who was elected as a Republican, on that side.

DELAWARE.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 8.—The election was very close in Newcastle county. The Democrats will elect Stockley governor and Love congressman. The election was quiet until just before the polls closed, when a party of negroes tried to start a riot. Several bystanders were shot. No one was killed, but the negroes were driven off. The legislature will be Democratic. Wilmington city will go Republican by 200. Senator Bayard was at the polls all day. Negro repeaters were at work. One hundred deputy marshals were appointed.

GEORGIA.

ATLANTA, Nov. 8.—Georgia sends a solid Democratic delegation to congress.

KENTUCKY.

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 8.—James E. Clay, Dem., is elected to Congress in the Second district; T. A. Robertson, Dem., succeeds Proctor Knott in the Fourth; Albert S. Willis is re-elected in the Fifth; John G. Carlisle in the Sixth; J. C. S. Blackburn in the Seventh. Philip B. Thompson, Dem., is probably elected in the Eighth. Gen. Frank Wolford is almost certainly elected in the Eleventh. Halsell, Dem., in the Third, is probably elected. The other districts are not heard from sufficiently to base an estimate. The election in the Ninth district is close, with the chances that Culbertson, Rep., is elected.

LOUISIANA.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 8.—The Democrats claim every congressman.

MARYLAND.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8.—The Democrats elect both Baltimore congressmen.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8—Maryland gains one Republican congressman.

Returns from the First and Second districts indicate the election of the present members of the house, Covington and Talbot, Democrats. The Fifth district is in doubt, and the result will not be known to-night. Chapman, Democrat, the present member, may pull through, but it will be close. In the Sixth district Montgomery Blair is probably defeated by McComas, Republican.

MISSISSIPPI.

JACKSON, Nov. 8.—Two Republican congressmen are elected in this state.

MISSOURI.

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 8.—The Democrats gain four congressmen in Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8.—The entire Democratic ticket is probably elected in this city.

MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 8.—The count is progressing slowly in all the principal towns. There is no doubt of the election of White, Wakefield and Strait, the Republican candidates in the First, Second and Third districts. In the Fourth district there has been much scratching, many Republicans voting for prohibition, and many Democrats for Washburn, Republican. Washburn claims that he will have 1,200 majority in Minneapolis, and Ames, Dem., perhaps 500 in St. Paul. This insures Washburn's election, as there will be a majority for him outside of the two towns. In the Fifth district the contest has been very warm. There has been much scratching. Innumerable splits in the legislative ticket make the count throughout the state very slow. Probably the whole Republican ticket is elected in Minneapolis. In St. Paul the Republicans probably elected five out of nine members.

NEBRASKA.

LINCOLN, Nov. 8.—The state elects James W. Dawes, Rep., governor, and the entire Republican state ticket by 15,000 plurality. The congressmen-elect are Judge Archibald J. Weaver in the First district, James Laird in the Second, and Edward K. Valentine in the Third. All are Republicans. The woman suffrage amendment is defeated by 20,000.

Clark, Republican candidate for state treasurer, will run behind the rest of the state ticket, and is possibly defeated.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

CONCORD, Nov. 8.—The chairman of the New Hampshire Republican committee claims the election of Hale for governor, and the legislature by 50 maj.

CONCORD, Nov. 8.—The vote in seventy-seven towns gives Hale, Rep., 9,688; Edgerly Dem., 9,081; scattering 182; The Republican net loss in these places is 581.

LATER.—Hale, Rep., is probably elected governor. Both Republican congressmen are elected by small majorities, and the legislature is Republican in both branches.

NEW JERSEY.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 8.—Robeson, of New Jersey, is defeated for congress.

CAMDEN, Nov. 8.—Robeson is badly defeated in this city.

NEWARK, Nov. 8.—Blake, Rep., is elected to congress in the Sixth district.

TRENTON, Nov. 8.—The following congressmen are elected in this state: Ferrell, Dem., First district; Brewer, Rep., Second district; McKean, Rep., Third district; Harris, Dem., Fourth district; Phelps, Rep., Fifth district; Fiehler, Dem., Sixth district; McAdoo, Dem., Seventh district. The Democrats carry the legislature and secure the United States senator.

NEVADA.

CARSON, Nov. 8.—Adams, Cassidy, and Stone, Democratic candidates for governor, congressman, and supreme judge have traded off the balance of the ticket for themselves and friends. The other candidates and the Irish voters in general worked against them. Dispatches indicate the election of Downing over Cassidy.

NORTH CAROLINA.

WILMINGTON, Nov. 8.—Indications are that the Democratic state ticket has a greater majority than in 1880. The legislature is undoubtedly Democratic. The election of Green, Democrat, to congress from the Wilmington district seems certain by at least 500 majority. The congressional delegation will probably be eight Democrats and one Republican.

RHODE ISLAND.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 8.—The indications are that the Republicans have carried the state by a small majority, re-electing Spooner and Chace to congress.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 8.—The Democratic state ticket is elected by a large majority; also six members of congress.

TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 8.—Wm. B. Bate, Democratic candidate for governor, carries the state by an overwhelming majority. The Democrats elect congressmen from the Third to Tenth districts inclusive.

TEXAS.

AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—The election in this city passed off quietly, only two wards counted giving Jones, for governor, 304 and Davis, for congress, 57 majority. News from over the state is very meager, and shows a great falling off in the Democratic vote. From the western part of this district the news is favorable for the election of Davis, and at the Republican headquarters to-night all are confident of his election.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 8.—The Democrats

The returns from nearly every section indicate large Democratic gains. The change in some of the river counties being simply overwhelming, and can be accounted for on no other supposition than that the German vote went in a body over to that party. The heavy Democratic majorities in Des Moines and Scott counties, which were hitherto Republican, indicate that the Republican majority will possibly be reduced to 25,000.

swept northern Texas like a whirlwind. Lanham, Wellborn, Throckmorton, Jones, Mills, and Reagan are elected to congress by increased majorities. Ireland for governor and the entire Democratic state ticket are elected by an enormous majority. The legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic. Wellborn, Dem. for congress, carries this, the Sixth district, but no reliable estimate can be made at this hour, 11:30 p. m. Maj. Washington Jones, Independent, for governor, and Kearby, for congress ran about as well as their supporters anticipated.

GALVESTON, Nov. 8.—The state Democratic ticket has been elected.

A HOLOCAUST.

More than Fifty Helpless Patients Perish in the Halifax Poor-House Fire.

HALIFAX, N. S., Nov. 8.—In the burning of the poor house yesterday morning, more than fifty of the inmates of the hospital were roasted alive. The top floor was the hospital, and in it were about seventy patients, most of them helpless. The fire burned right into the hospital, and the heat was so intense that molten lead poured down from the roof in streams of brilliant fire, and slates flew everywhere in deadly showers, rendering any near approach to the building almost certain death. Notwithstanding this there were hundreds standing outside who would willingly have entered the building if they could have found their way through the place. Indeed, several did go in, but without guidance could do nothing, and had to return to the yard. An attempt was made to raise a ladder to the windows, but it was too short, and after a fireman was knocked down by falling bricks, and it was seen the ladder ever would be swept away in a few minutes, the attempt ceased. The fire burst through the roof, and the scene was one never to be forgotten. Far above the roar of flames and crack of bursting slates were heard the cries of the wretched patients in the hospital, who were roasting to death. Most of them, as before stated, were helpless and could not leave their beds, and perhaps were stifled by the smoke before the cruel flames reached them, but others were seen to dash themselves against the windows and cling to the sashes till their strength was exhausted or their hands burned off, and they fell back into the seething caldron of flames. A woman was seen to drag herself to a corner window, and forcing her body half out, till she could breath cool air, remained in that position till her head burned off. It is known there were about seventy patients in the hospital, and, as far as can be ascertained, only half a dozen were carried out before the flames cut off all further approach to the place. A medical man who is in a position to know estimates the loss of life at not less than fifty. The poor old people and little children rescued from other parts of the building were huddled together in a barn some little distance away, and were packed around with straw and blankets to keep them comfortable till morning.

A Colliery Horror.

LONDON, Nov. 8.—In a colliery explosion at Clay Cross mines in Derbyshire, thirty persons, mostly miners, were killed. Four of the managers of the mines were blown to atoms. Frightful scenes are being enacted about the mouth of the shaft. Many large families are left without means of support. The explosion, which was terrific in its force and deadly effect, shattered buildings in localities five miles distant from the mines. A chair at the bottom of the shaft was blown up through the mouth of the colliery into the headgear.

A Great Fire in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 8.—Oliver's wire mill, the largest in the country, burned. Loss $100,000. Eight hundred men thrown out of work.

A Trick in Antiquities.

Paris Correspondent San Francisco Chronicle.

The French government sells at auction from time to time the broken furniture, etc., that has accumulated in the lumber-rooms of the state palaces. What is sold is entirely unfit for use, and, if of metal, only of value for the melting pot. At every such sale the government officials have noticed that much of this rubbish is eagerly bought up by certain dealers at prices far above its real value. The secret of this is that everything that has ever been included in the inventories of the royal or imperial palaces is stamped with the mark of the crown officials. Suppose that the article sold is nothing but the foot of an ordinary brass candlestick. The dealer fastens this foot, which is genuine, to a magnificent candelabra in the style of the period indicated by the official stamp, but which is entirely modern. He then easily disposes of it to a collector as a genuine piece that has once belonged to the Tuileries, or St Cloud, or Fontainebleau. It may be worth $40, but, thanks to the stamp, which gives it the appearance of being genuine, he asks and easily obtains $400 for it.

Bergh, the Brutes' Friend.

Cor. San Francisco Chronicle.

Suddenly I came upon a well-known New Yorker. He wore a brownish green suit and a hat that matched it. His whole attire, from the horse's head that pinned his scarf to the gloves on his hands, was faultless, except that it was a little odd and striking. When my eyes rested on his doleful face I found myself again in doubt, as I am every time I see him, which was most marked—its resemblance to the face of a horse or its similarity to Dore's pictures of Don Quixote. It is a long, thin visage, with large, irregular features, baggy eyes and heavy lines at the sides and around the mouth. If you saw him and had never heard of Henry Bergh you would turn to have another look at him. He is the lord of Baxter street. He is not the owner of any property in that forlorn street, except as president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

The Icelander's Simple Habits.

New York Times.

Dr. Vigfusson, a teacher of Icelandic at the University of Oxford, has recently published some very interesting notes on the simplicity of life in his native land. "We are a spare folk," he says; "I myself always was thin and pale in my youth. And, after all, food is not everything; the English, perhaps, make too much of their dinner. Dinners are good, but there is better in health of body and a contented mind." He goes on to say that in his young days his people lived sparing and healthy. He never tasted wine till he was 22, or beer before he was grown up. "Milk and whey or water were always to be had, and he did not wish for more," he says.

A Saratoga Legend.

Cottage Hearth.

There is an Indian superstition connected with Lake Saratoga to the effect that the stillness of the water is sacred to the Great Spirit, and that whoever disturbs it by speaking, will sink. In the early days of the first settlers it is related that an English woman, who was being taken across in a canoe by some Indians, uttered a loud cry to convince them of their foolish fears. The canoe reached the shore safely, when the woman rallied the chief on his credulity. "The Great Spirit is merciful," answered the scornful Mohawk; "He knows that a white woman cannot hold her tongue."

Progress of Washington Monument

Cottage Hearth.

Seventy-six courses of stone, making 153 vertical feet, have been laid since work recommenced in earnest upon the Washington monument. It has now reached the height of 302 feet, but, inasmuch as 251 feet more are to be added, there is a chance, judging by the past, for the smallest boy to become a gray-headed man before the "father of his country" is suitably honored at the national capital.

Put this in your Pipe.

"Frank P. Warner came into our store to purchase a sample bottle of Zopesa for a friend, and stated that he (Mr. Warner) was afflicted with kidney and liver troubles for five years, and had paid $200 or $300 doctor's bills, and has now been completely cured by the use of two large bottles and one sample bottle of Zopesa. He was so bad at one time that he lost 37 pounds of flesh, but after using Zopesa claims that he is a sound man, and now weighs 145 pounds. He was loud in its praise, and readily consented to allow us to use his name for reference.

Again, Mrs. Forbes, wife of Mr. R. C. Forbes, Tilsonburg, Ont., through Mr. C. Thomson, druggist, says: "She was ailing for years with Biliousness and Dyspepsia and was reduced to a mere skeleton, but through the use of Zopesa entirely recovered and has gained 38 pounds."

We could present very many such, but have not the time nor space. Zopesa is not a cure-all, but acts directly upon the liver, kidneys, and stomach, correcting the digestion, giving activity to the liver and health to the urine. This corrects the whole system and the blood becomes pure. Sold by Prentice & Evenson.

Is universal; it affects all the human family, all animals, and may be even found in patent medicines. POSITIVELY CURED BY Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly-discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter-irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

FALLOW.

I like these plants that you call weeds—
Sedge, hardhack, mullein, yarrow,—
That knit their roots, and sift their seed
Where any grassy wheel-track leads
Through country by-ways narrow.

They fringe the rugged hillside farms,
Grown old with cultivation,
With such wild wealth of rustic charms
As bloomed in Nature's matron arms
The first days of creation.

They show how Mother Earth loves best
To deck her tired-out places:
By flowery lips, in hours of rest,
Against hard work she will protest
With homely airs and graces.

You plow the arbutus from her hills:
How down her mountain laurel!
Their place, as best she can, she fills
With humbler blossoms; so she wills
To close with you her quarrel.

She yielded to your axe, with pain,
Her tree, primeval glory;
She brought you crops of golden grain;
You say, "How dull she grows! how plain!"
The old, mean, selfish story!

Her wildwood soil you may subdue,
Tortured by hoe and harrow;
But leave her for a year or two,
And see! she stands and laughs at you
With hardhack, mullein, yarrow!

Dear Earth, the world is hard to please!
Yet heaven's breath gently passes
Into the life of flowers like these;
And I lie down at blessed ease
Among thy weeds and grasses.

—Lucy Larcom, in Atlantic Monthly.

IN A COAT POCKET.

Astley Cowper, hat in hand, was just turning the handle of the street door, when a soft call from the stair-top made him pause.

"Are you going to the post-office Astley?"

"No, not exactly, but near it. Is there anything you want done?"

"Only this letter to post," and a girlish shape flitted down the stair. Astley watched as she descended, and with suddenly sharpened recognition of the fact, said to himself, "What a pretty girl Rosamond is!"

Brothers are not always so alive to their sisters' charms, but the fact that rarely in her life had Rosamond Cowper been so near to perfect beauty as at that moment, when she came down the old staircase, letter in hand; her cheeks flushed with deepest pink; her eyes shining, and her red lips parted with I know not what happy stir of emotion and expectancy.

Two long braids of pale brown hair, thick and glossy as those of German Gretchen, hung down her back. On the fair forehead clustered a fringe of light waving rings, not cut and trained after the manner of the conventional bang, but a happy freak of nature and accident.

The slender figure in its white dress had all the rounded grace of youth and perfect health. Over all was an air of virginal freshness, indescribable but charming. It was one of those bel momenti which come at times to most young creatures.

But Rosamond was too much preoccupied to be conscious of her looks, as she handed her letter to her brother, with fingers that trembled a little, and said, anxiously, "You won't lose it, will you, Astley?"

"Certainly not," with a superior smile. He stuffed it carelessly into a side-pocket of his coat, a coat made, like the rest of his suit, of that immaculate white duck, in which our youthful swells delight to array themselves in hot weather.

Forth he went, clean, alert, handsome, the very picture of a luxurious young fellow enjoying a summer holiday. No thought of betraying Rosamond's trust was in his mind, and his steps had already turned toward the postoffice, when a dog cart drew up suddenly and a cheery hail roused his attention.

"Well met, old fellow. I was just going round to ask if you felt like a game of tennis. The Porters sent a note early in the morning, to ask me to drive down to the Croft for luncheon and a game, and to bring you."

"All right. I will." Astley jumped into the cart and in another moment was bowling down the road toward the Croft—a pretty country place some three miles distant. Rosamond's commission was clean forgotten.

Tennis was followed by luncheon, that by more tennis, and a conversation under the shade of the branching cedars which flanked the ground. Then pretty Mabel Porter proposed a walk, and led the way through a grassy valley to the gorge beyond, where a little brook tore its wild way from higher levels to the water meadows below.

The rocks over which the party climbed were slippery here and there, and in saving Mabel from a fall, Astley himself had a tumble, trifling in itself, but damaging to the duck suit; so damaging in fact that the suit went to the laundress next day.

Before its return, the weather had changed to that odd, almost autumnal coolness which checkers and tempers the heats of our American summers. It was some time before Astley had occasion to wear it again. When it was taken for use, by mere accident, he was searching for something in the pocket, when his astonished fingers encountered and drew forth a rather thick, flat, hard square of paper for which he could in no way account.

His first sensation was one of unmixed bewilderment.

"Why, what on earth? A letter, and what letter?"—and he proceeded to smooth the rumpled mass out on the table. A few faintly written characters were discernible on what had been an envelope

Mr. Dwight Edgar,
P. Box 5—
New Y—

"Dwight Edgar. Why, what does this mean. I have had no letter from him," reflected the astonished Astley, still intent on the disorganized fragments. "But stay—this isn't a letter from him—but to him. How could it get into my pocket?"

Here and there a sentence could be made out, or parts of sentences. "I am so very, very happy, but I can't tell you about that until"——"Ought to have got your letter four days ago."——"So you needn't go to Europe you see, for"——and then a blurred signature. "Come soon to your own Ros"——

It flashed across him then. This was the letter which Rosamond had given him to post four weeks ago. It had lain in his pocket all this time, and had gone through the wash besides! Here was a pretty kettle of fish!

Quickly his mind ran over the disjointed phrases, reading the half-obliterated meaning "between the lines." The letter was in reply to an offer from Edgar, there could be no doubt of that.

Astley had always suspected that there was a tenderness in that quarter. And Rosamond had said "yes."

What must she have been thinking and feeling all these weeks?

And then a groan escaped from Astley, as it flashed upon his mind that only a fortnight since he had read Dwight Edgar's name in the list of the "sailed for Europe;" read it aloud, with some careless comment.

Rosamond was in the room, he recollected. What had she said? Had she said anything? He seemed to remember that she had got up quietly and left the room.

How should he tell her? And what use to tell, when Dwight was gone, gone for years as likely as not? Oh, what had his carelessness done?

"I suppose he went because he thought she would have nothing to say to him," he said to himself, miserably.

The sound of the dinner-bell interrupted his unpleasant meditations, and he went down feeling as if he ought to be hanged.

Rosamond was in her usual place, neat, graceful, smiling, even; but studying her face with awakened attention, Astley thought that he detected effort in the smiles and the cheerfulness. The sweet face was a little thinner; the wild-rose bloom, which was its characteristic, had paled to a fainter pink, and Astley heard his mother ask "Headache again, my child?" and caught the patient answer, "Just a little."

With increased remorse he execrated his carelessness. What ought he to do? What could he do?

Long and deeply did he study over the question. At last he took a half-manly, half-cowardly resolution. Confess his delinquency to his sister he absolutely dared not, but that night he wrote to Dwight Edgar, made a full exposition of his fault, and inclosed the faintly blotted scrap which said so little and meant so much.

This done, he set himself to wait for the moment when he could produce evidence that, so far as in him lay, he had made amends for his misdoing, and till then he resolved to be silent.

Astley was right in his guess. Dwight Edgar had gone to Europe a deeply disappointed man. In the letter, to which Rosamond's was answer, he had written, "Don't say no. I could not bear that, nor could I give your gentleness the pain of uttering the word. I will wait two weeks, and if at their end you have said nothing, I shall go abroad, and travel till I can bear to come home again."

Not a wise argument this, considering what chances and changes, including post-office laxities, are involved in this mortal life; but lovers are not always wise.

The two weeks passed without word or token, each slow day deepening his hopelessness, and at their end he sailed. His final arrangements were made in a hurry, and he had been glad to accept a friend's benevolent offer of half a stateroom on the over-crowded steamer. It was benevolence very poorly rewarded, for John Blagden found him very dull company.

For the first few hours he made some little effort at conversation, then he dropped all pretences and sat in moody silence, staring at the dim backward horizon from which each stroke of the paddles carried them farther and farther.

It was no better after they reached London. The two men took a set of rooms together at the Langham, but to all plans for pleasuring Dwight turned a deaf ear.

"Go by yourself, that's a good fellow," he said. "I won't bore you with my dullness. I'll just sit here till post-time and read the American newspapers."

"And that is what I left him at," explained John Blagden to a mutual acquaintance encountered in the coffee-room. "Poring over an old Herald, twelve days out,—what an occupation for a man to take up in London!

"Poor Dwight, I never saw a fellow so changed in my life. He's all cut up about something, and I wish I knew what, for really, I have no notion what I ought to do about him. Nothing I can say makes any difference."

And nothing did make any difference till, a week after this conversation, Mr. Blagden returned from an excursion to Hampton Court, to find his friend busily engaged in cramming his belongings into a portmanteau, with a light in his eyes and a color in his cheeks which made him seem a different man.

"Hallo! I'm glad you've come, old fellow. I'm off at once."

"Oh? Where to?"

"Home. Liverpool train at nine o'clock and catch the Bohemia."

"Home! The States! Why, what does it mean? You were going to Paris with me on Tuesday you said."

"Well—so I did intend, but I've had letters and must get back as soon as possible."

"Nothing wrong, I hope."

"Not at all; quite the contrary. Everything is right."

Marveling greatly, John Blanden turned to the table, where amid newspapers and torn wrappers, and other debris of just-arrived mail, lay a sheet of closely-written paper with a heap on it of something odd and blotted. "What's that?" he asked with a natural curiosity, stooping to examine it.

Dwight Edgar snatched it up. "It's—it's nothing," he explained,—"only a letter I've had." Then breaking into a laugh at his friend's discomfited countenance, the first real laugh which John had heard him give since they left America, he added:

"Never mind old boy, I'll explain some day. It's all right, at least, I hope it is, and I know I've been a dull, unsocial dog all this time. You've been awfully good to put up with me, and I'll try to make amends next time we meet."

Meanwhile the days were passing heavily enough in far-away America, where Rosamond bore her secret pain. She had kept the knowledge of her plighted faith as a choice secret, not to be revealed till Dwight should come. When he failed to come, pride kept her silent still.

The news of his departure struck in her heart like a blow. What did it mean? "I will not be base, or little, or suspicious," she told herself; "there is some blunder. He will come back, he will —exhi-"

But weeks of suspense and uncertainty passed. She could school her words and her manner, but not her face, and that fair face began to look piteous and wan.

Astley, watching her with compunctious anxiety, felt an ever-deepening heart-ache. Three weeks had passed since his letter of explanation was posted. An hour might bring a response, and he haunted the postoffice with a pertinacity inexplicable to his father.

"I can't stand it much longer," he told himself. "If that fellow isn't heard from by to-morrow night, I shall make a clean breast of it to Rosy, and confess the whole thing."

And the next evening, "that fellow" still not being heard from, he did it. Rosamond, spirit-fair and fragile in her white dress, was sitting on the doorstep in the moonlight, and sitting at her feet, he plunged into medias res.

"Rose, do you recollect a letter you gave me to post more than a month ago?"

"Yes," with a little gasp.

"Well, I forgot it."

"O, Astley!"

"Yes; it was in my pocket, you know. I was going straight to the office, but something interrupted me—lawn tennis at the Potters, I believe—and then I sent my coat to the wash, with the letter still in it. I never found it out till the confounded thing came back, and some days after, as I put it on, happened to feel in the pocket, and there it was—what was left of it."

Rosamond sat perfectly still. Not a sound came from her lips. Astley waited an instant, as if in hope of an answer, then went on:

"Rosy, darling, you mustn't mind, but I couldn't help seeing who the letter was for, and that—that—it was something of consequence. It was all blotted and blurred, but a word or two could be made out here and there. I was awfully cut up about it. I couldn't bear to tell you, and I didn't know what to do. At last I wrote a full explanation to Dwight, and I put the scraps in my letter."

"Astley!"

There was a ring of hope and dismay in the exclamation. So absorbed were both that neither noticed that some one swung the gate just then.

"Yes, I did. It went three weeks ago yesterday, and by to-morrow you ought to hear from him, that is, if he happened to be in London when the mail got in. I didn't mean to tell you till his letter came, but I could wait no longer. Just say you forg—Why—what is it?" as Rosamond sprang to her feet with a cry, "Dwight! Dwight!"

"She's fainted!" exclaimed Astley, in an awe-struck tone, as his sister's head dropped heavily on his arm.

But happiness is a better restorative than burnt feathers, and in a little time Rosamond was able to assure Astley of her forgiveness, to smile and ask questions, and finally be left on the doorstep for a long moonlight talk with her truant correspondent.

When I saw Mrs. Dwight Edgar at Newport last year, she wore on her wrist a slender chain to which was attached a locket whose lid was a big moorstone.

Within was a singular little wad of what looked like paper which had been wet and pressed together. When I asked what it could be, she answered evasively, "Oh, papier mache; a bit of an old letter which Dwight makes me wear. There's quite a story about it, but it's too long to tell."

Her husband chuckled, and later, seeing that I was curious, he told me the story which I have told to you.

"And you never saw any one so reformed as Astley is, ever since then," added Rosamond, with laughter in her voice. "He's the most particular creature you ever saw, always fidgeting and fussing for fear he may have forgotten something. If he lives to be a hundred, you may depend upon it, he will never again forget another letter in a coat-pocket."—Susan Coolidge in Youth's Companion.

To Promulgate the Truth.

The way to get a thing believed by the public at large is to first have a truth to announce without any doubt or suspicion as to its being the truth, and then to keep on telling by speech and pen, by type and figure, in every way repeating it constantly. Thus it was that when The Louisiana State Lottery was incorporated in 1868 at New Orleans, for charitable and educational purposes, there was a doubt that the managers would act as fairly as they announced, but the fact that Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va., have the sole supervision of the drawings removes this suspicion, and it has been proven up to the 150th monthly drawing on Nov. 14th, that millions have been distributed to parties applying to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., in sums ranging as high as $100,000, and so on down. Tickets cost $5, but fifths are sold at $1 each, and the certainty of the event is supplemented by the knowledge that some one will get $85,000, or fractional parts thereof. Who will it be?

The delegation in the state legislature from Rock county will be all republican. Dr. S. L. Lord will be the state senator for the next four years, and will enter upon the duties of that honorable office with the satisfaction that he is endorsed by a large majority of the people whom he represents. Hon. John Huntly, from the first assembly district, and Hon. John Conly, from the third, have been returned for a two-years term by handsome majorities. In the city district, Colonel W. B. Britton has a handsome majority, considering the opposition he had to contend with. The republicans must content themselves with the fact that they have elected every officer in the county, and that by good majorities.

Nearly a Miracle.

E. Asenity Hall, Binghamton, N. Y., writes: "I suffered for several months with a dull pain through the left lung and shoulders. I lost my spirits, appetite and color, and could with difficulty keep up all day. My mother procured some BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS; I took them as directed, and have felt no pain since first week after taking them, and am now quite well." Price $1.00.

Circuit Court.

The November term of the circuit court for this county opened this morning at ten o'clock, Judge Bennett presiding. His honor immediately proceeded to call the calendar, which is quite extensive. It was ascertained that a great majority of the cases were not ready for trial at this time, and a short adjournment will doubtless be taken. Judge Bennett announced that he took notice of the fact that the attornies would not be ready in their cases, owing to the uncertainty whether the term would be held, in view of the condition of Judge Conger a few weeks ago, and the confusion in which the calendar is necessarily thrown by reason of the presiding judge having been of counsel in a large number of the actions on the calendar. He said he would arrange to exchange with the judge of some other circuit, and have him come here and try those cases. It is probable that Judge Sloan, of Beaver Dam, will sit here, while Judge Bennett will go to Waukesha in his place, to hold the December term there.

The jury were called at two o'clock this afternoon, and excused from attendance until the first Monday of December, when the trial of jury cases will be taken up.

In the murder trial brought here on change of venue from Racine county, the state against Hartley Clifford, District Attorney Cooper and Hon. A. R. R. Butler, defendant's attorney, were present in court, and announced that the case was for trial at this term. It is probable that a day will be fixed for its trial next month. The Rock county murder case, state against Charles Stuart, is also understood to be for trial at this term.

Court will be in session to-morrow for the transaction of legal business.

Who has not seen the fair, fresh young girl transformed in a few months into the pale, haggard, dispirited woman? The sparkling eyes are dimmed, and the ringing laugh heard no more. Too often the causes are disorders of the system which Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription" would remedy in a short time. Remember, that the "Favorite Prescription" will unfailingly cure all "female weaknesses," and restore health and beauty. By all druggists. Great Oil Boom.

E. Baleb, Elgin, Ill., writes: "That after trying dozens of patent liniments, without relief, for a rheumatic and stiff knee, I feel I have "struck oil at last," for after using three bottles of THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL, I am prepared to say it is the best application I have ever used."

The Popular Candidate.

The Beloit Free Press of Tuesday says:

The silver water pitcher and cup, donated to the Catholic fair, by Hamlin & Race, and voted to Hon. C. G. Williams, as the most popular candidate for congress from this district, was forwarded to Mr. Williams to-day, accompanied by the following note:

BELOIT, Wis., Nov. 7th, 1882.

Hon. C. G. Williams, Janesville, Wis.:

At the Catholic fair recently held in this city, the accompanying silver pitcher and goblet was, by a majority of all the votes cast at said fair, for candidate for congress, in the First Wisconsin district voted to you as the most popular candidate. You are desired to accept the same from your Beloit friends as a token of their appreciation and esteem.

The Weather.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning registered 43 degrees above zero, and at 1 p. m. at 53 degrees above. Clear and pleasant. One year ago to-day the register stood for the same hours 54 and 46 degree above.

"The Commodore."

JOS. L. FOOTE, the Commodore, Elgin, Ill., says THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL cured him of sciatica with one application, thoroughly applied. It also cured him of a severe cold and cough. He thinks it is a very valuable remedy and will never be without it.

Milton.

—D. T. Hudson sold thirty hogs, last Monday, which brought him the handsome sum of $560.

—O. E. Larkin, of the Chicago medical college, made us a pleasant call, Monday night. He is looking hale and hearty, and his many friends here are glad to meet him once more.

—C. E. Crandall came up from Morgan Park, Tuesday to vote for Williams.

—Rice Meyer, who was arrested on charge of stealing money from Dennis Hurd, had examination before Justice Clarke, on Monday, and was acquitted, there being no evidence against him.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have headache, mouth tastes bad, poor appetite, tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver, or "biliousness." Nothing will cure you so speedily and permanently as Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." By all druggists.

Emerald Grove.

—Election passed off very quietly. Too busy times for farmers to hang around the polls and talk politics.

—Rev. Samuel Plantz, of Boston, Mass., made a short visit to his parents a few days ago.

—Jerome T. Boynton and wife spent a few days last week visiting friends in Illinois.

—The indications are that the telephone line will be put up thus giving us communication with Janesville and Johnstown.

AT THE

MAMMOTH STORE

OF

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS

Anticipating a large trade we have bought one of the largest and best stock of goods ever introduced into Southern Wisconsin, which will be sold at prices that will be popular with all the people. Read and note every word and if we do not do just as we say we will, call ourselves no dry goods men and do not buy one dollar's worth.

Our first article we place before you that we call very cheap is one case of all wool Camelette which we place upon our counters at 50 cents per yard, former price 70 to 80 cents. These goods are all wool in all the new shades, and for a genteel dress at a low price there are no goods in the market to compare with them. They are 40 inches wide.

We place upon our counter 20 pieces of American Colored Silk, at $1.25, this is the best value known for the money. And in Black Silks we beat the entire party. We will give you Black Silks for 8, 10 and 12 shillings, never before known for the money. An examination of this department will verify the fact.

In Black and Colored Cashmeres we are without a rival in Rock county, so say all the ladies who have seen them

In Cheap Dress Goods we have ten cases in all the new shades which we are selling from 6¼ to 12½ cents.

This is very cheap, a great many of the dark colors are much better for comfortables than any cheap print, and wear much longer.

Ladies Cloths and Flannels we have an endless variety and sell them all at low prices.

In Cloaks and Shawls we have the largest variety ever shown by us, and far superior to any stock this side of Chicago.

In Velv and Cloth Shawls we have a beautiful line. Call and see them, ladies

In White Bed Blankets we have a beautiful stock and all cheap.

We have one case of the celebrated Eagle and Phœnix Cotton Bed Blankets far superior to Wool and at much less price. We will sell you the 11/4 Blanket for $5.00, as good value as any $8.00 Wool Blanket in the market. Call in and see the novelty and it will please you.

Bleached, Brown and Red Table linen in large variety and at popular prices.

1,000 dozen Linen Towels cheap, and good. We will sell you the best 25 cent Towel in the United States.

Ladies' and Children's Underwear We absolutely stand without rival in this department. Our 50 cent Ladies' Vest is simply grand. In gentlemen's Underwear we stand far ahead of our competitors. Our 50 cent and one dollar Vest cannot fail to please you every time.

Our Ladies' Cloths and Ulster Cloth are simply splendid. The line that we bought at the great closing sale of A. T Stewart's, are selling rapidly, and at prices far below any goods offered in the State. Give this line a look and you will be more than suited.

Our Flannel Department is filled with desirable goods; Red, Grey, Blue, White and all fancy colors, for ladies' and children's wear, and at popular prices.

Our Glove and Hosiery department the best we ever had and at prices truly surprising. Our nine cent Hose, a wonder to everybody. We received to-day 50 dozen of Hose at one shilling, that lead the van. Our two and three shilling Wool Hose are the best ever offered. It surprises ourselves to think we can give you as good an article for the money in this line as we can. Do not fail to see them.

Our Lace Department, full and replete with good and cheap goods.

Our Carpet stock full with all the new novelties. We have the only genuine Auxminster Moquette Carpet in the city. In this we will refer you to any carpet house in the United States.

Oilcloth, Linoleum and Stove Rugs, in large variety, all at popular prices.

Respectfully yours,

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.
